DELPHIAN

Foreword

This year as we look back on the progress of the past fifty years, we are humbled by the exploits of the great individuals and great teams of the past. The achievements of people in education, science, and sports seem beyond reach.

But we cannot live in the past; it is only a guide leading us to better things in the future. Think not how good the past was, but how much greater the future, based on such a glorious past, can be.

Editor-in-chief
JIM BAILEY

Dedication

The past fifty years of Delphian work have proved successful only because of the excellent guidance which has been provided by our advisors.

In grateful appreciation for the faithful service which they have rendered, we dedicate this volume of "The Golden Years" to them.

In Memoriam

No man is an island, entire of itself; every man is a piece of the continent, a part of the main; if a clod be washed away by the sea, Europe is the less, as well as if a promontorie were, as well as if a manner of the friends or of thine own were; any mans death diminishes me, because I am involved in mankind; and therefore never send to know for whom the bell tolls; it tolls for thee.

John Donne

In memory of Leila Helmich, who died January, 1962. Her death was a loss to all.

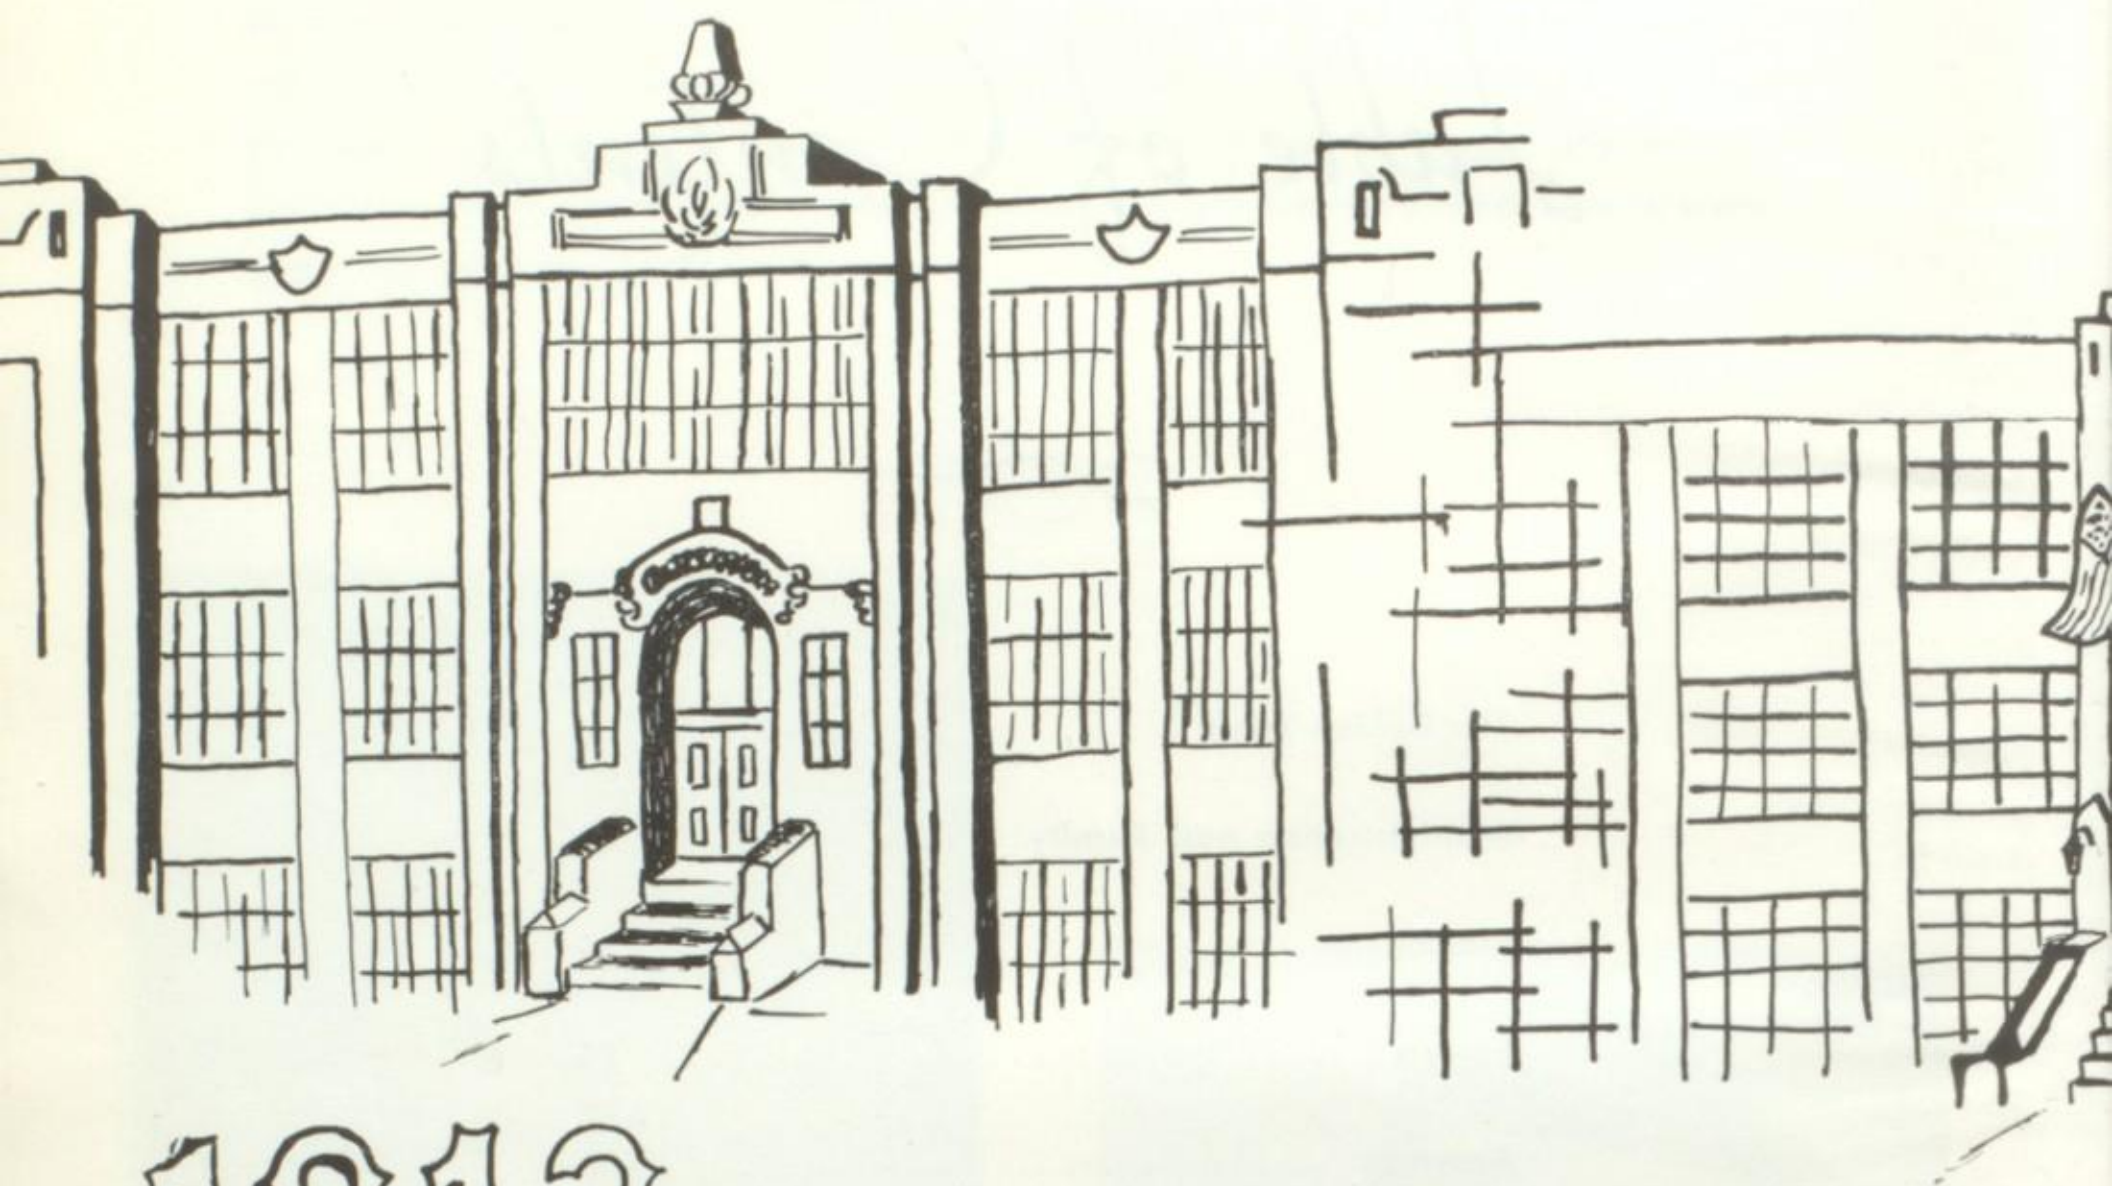

In memory of Gary Anderson, who died on March 23, 1962. He was a friend to all who knew him.

THE GOLD

"Vision and Realization"

A High School Annual in 1913 was practically unknown. It was appropriate for colleges, but not for secondary schools. When the proposal to publish an annual was presented to the school authorities, permission was granted provided it was done out of school and at no expense to the school.

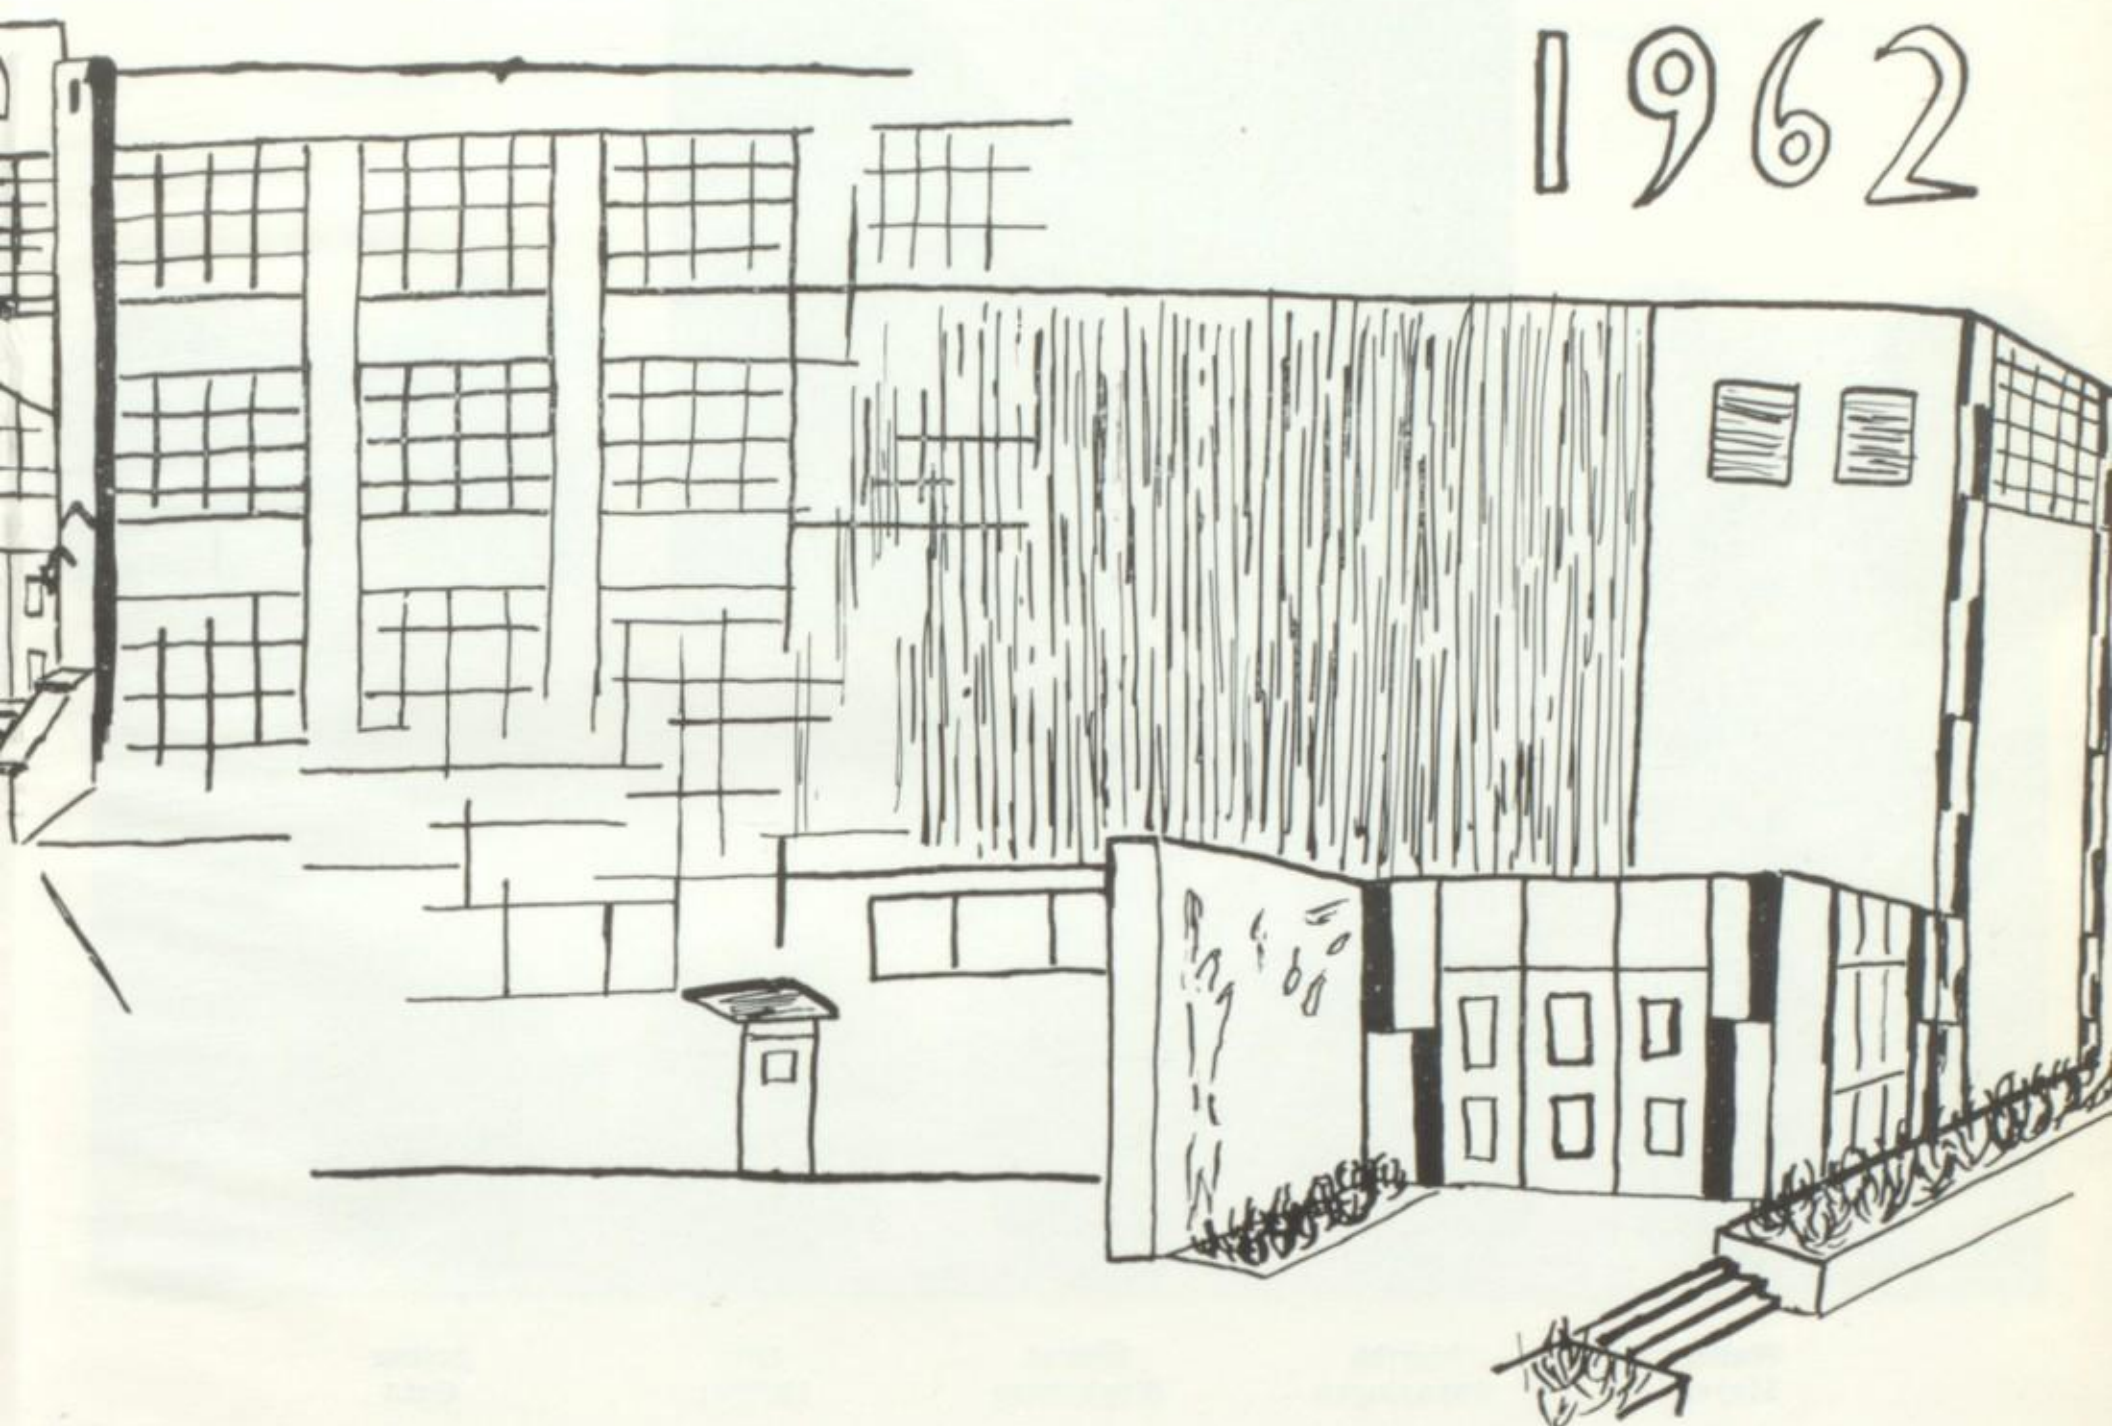

Now we must agree that the "Vision" of 1912 was good, and has been fully realized in the Delphian of 1962---the 50th volume.

Sincerely,

WALTER R. RITTER

EN YEARS

1962

The 1962 Delphian marks the fiftieth anniversary of the publication of the school yearbook. Our theme, "The Golden Years," is representative of time in which our school has made significant progress.

I especially wish to thank the members of the Delphian staff for their loyalty and hard work. I also wish to thank the board members, school administrators and fellow workers for their understanding and cooperation in making this project a reality.

Sincerely,

Originally known as the Corona, our first yearbook was published in the 1912-13 school year. Walter, Ritter, manager of the Buckeye Machine and Supply Co. here, was the first faculty advisor and originator of this new idea of having a high school annual. Since this idea was a completely new line of thought for a high school, the board of education refused to help in financing the yearbook. No school time was allotted to this "extra" work, and no school funds were available for its use.

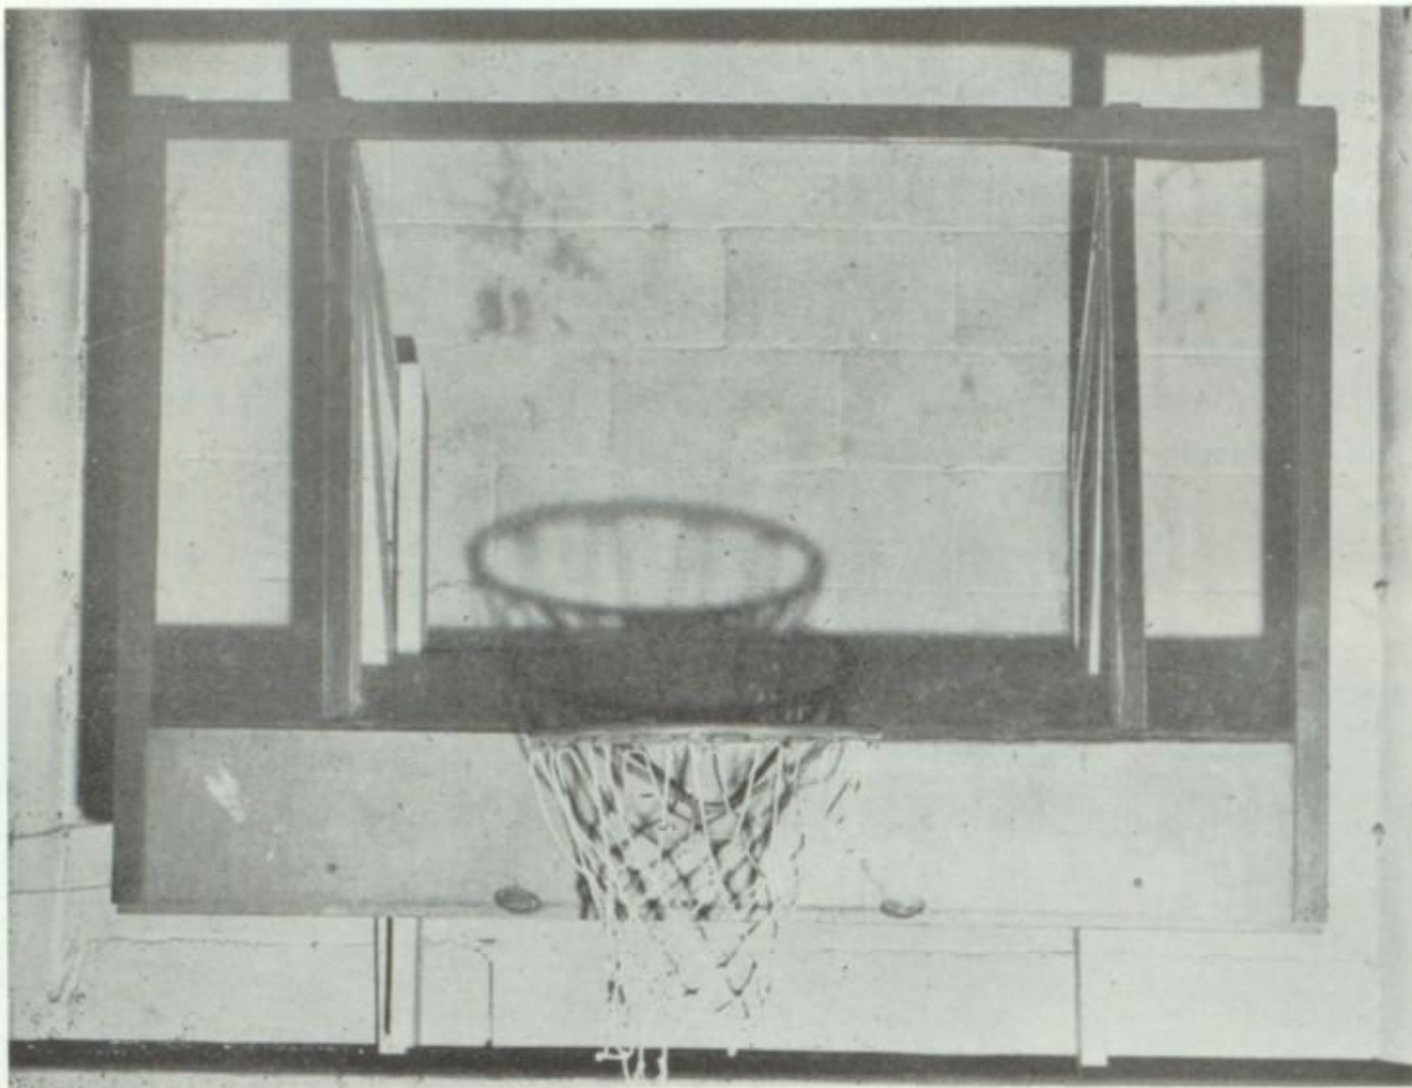

After appointing his staff — Russell Exley, editor; Ralph Scott, assistant editor; Earl Winkler, business manager; Russell Wallick, assistant manager; Walter Meyer, athletics; Martha Swearingen, literary; Robert Stephenson, humorous, Lois Hellyer, class; and Arthur Getz, art — he began work on the publication of the yearbook. All of this work was done in the back room of Reg's Drug Store on the square (now the site of a bakery.) J. Forest Tucker and S. H. Green helped the beginners in the printing of and photography for their new yearbook. The first edition came out in a leather-back cover at a cost of .75 for advance subscribers and $1.00 for late subscribers. Hard work and sweat went into the first publication, but it was a tremendous success for the students.

The name "Corona" was short-lived for the annual. The following year, Mr. Ritter held a contest for the student body to submit names for the yearbook. Two students, Martha Swearingen and Dave Morgan, submitted the name "Delphian", and so the yearbook, as we know it today, had its beginning.

The change in the name of the annual was not the only change in 1914. A new high school was added to the public school system, offering the students new, modern surroundings in which to pursue their education, friendships, activities, and sports. Frank L. Packard, of Columbus, Ohio, was the architect of our new addition, and George Kratt, of Lorain, Ohio, was given the contract for the construction. Officials for our new school system were Robert S. Barton, M.D., President, Charles W. Henderson, Vice-President, Adam A. Stermer, clerk, A. A. Bowers, W. C. Graff, Charles F. Limbach, Superintendent of Schools, and Frank L. Mosher, Superintendent of Buildings.

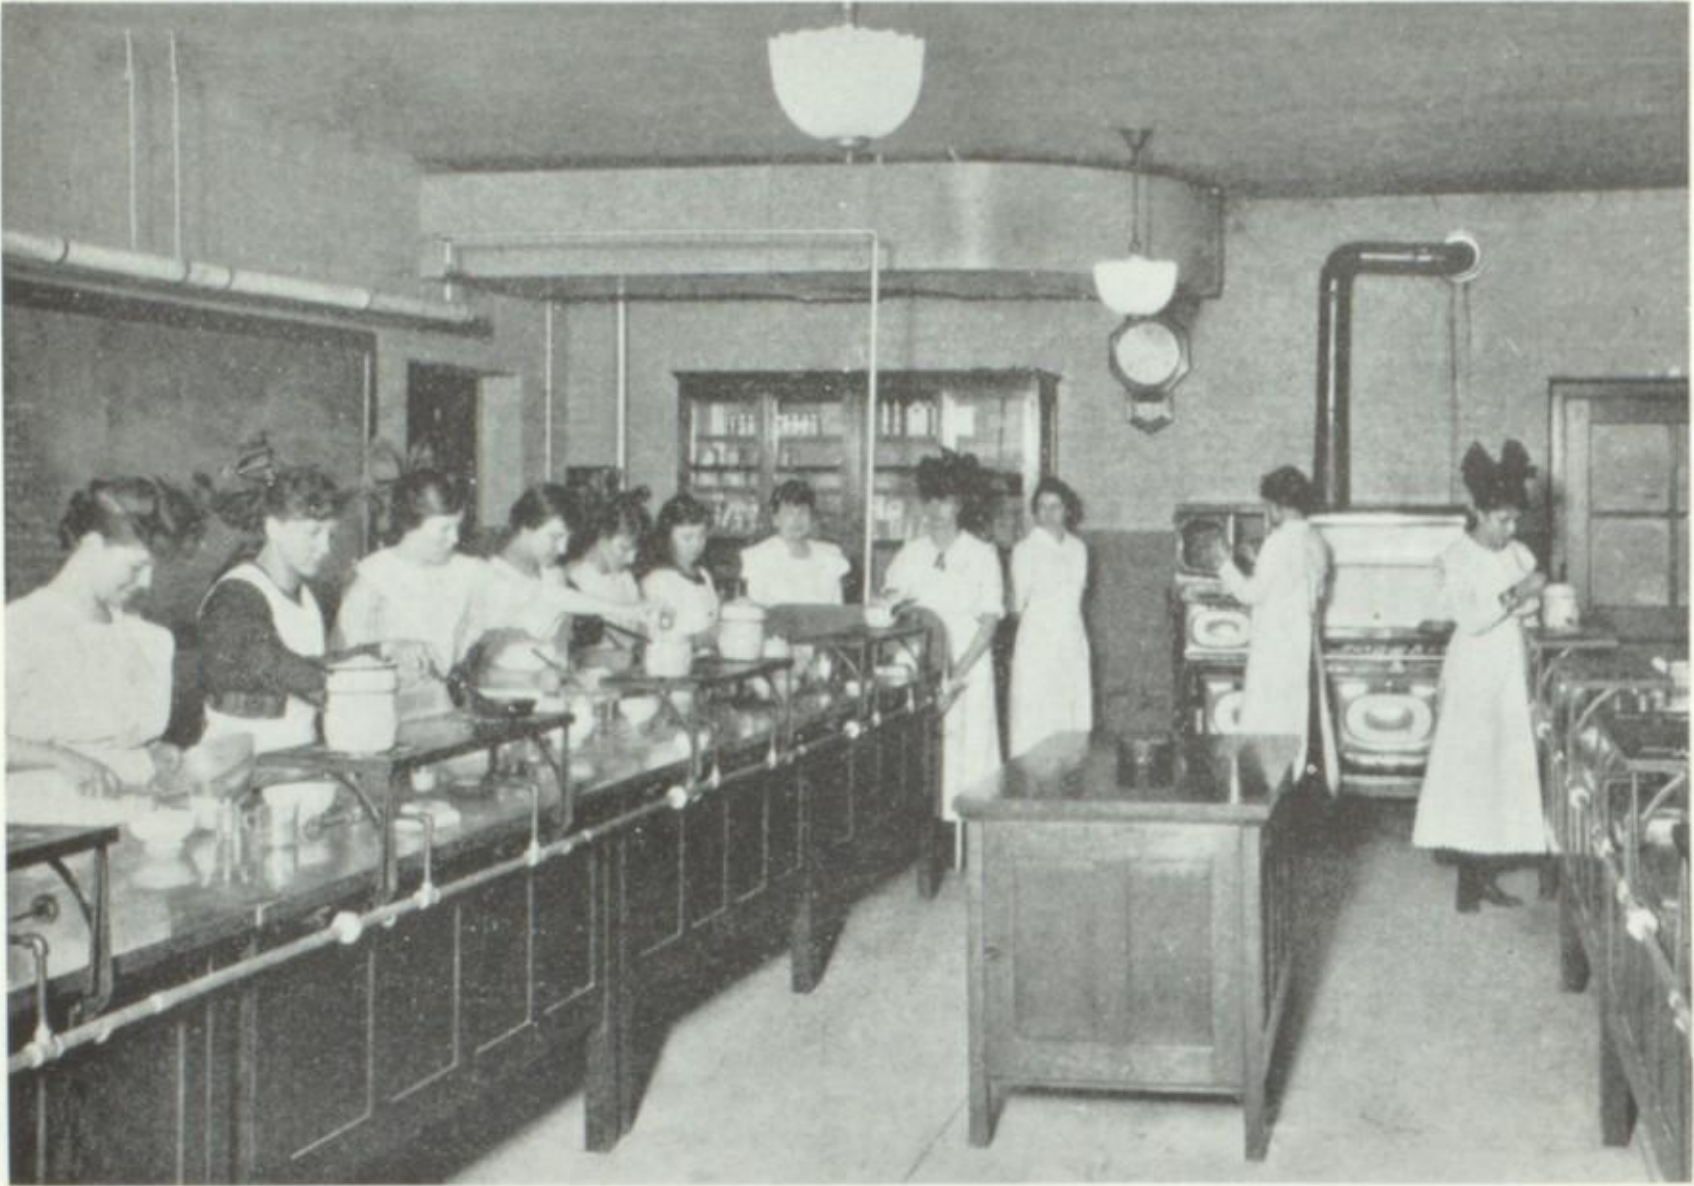

A beautiful, new auditorium was built for the assemblies of the student body, the present site of our library. The stage was located in the south end of the library where the offices are now. The library was then located in the double study hall 329, and the principal's office was in the present audio-visual office.

Since the "new" gym was limited in size and seating capacity, bleachers had to be constructed behind the backboards. To eliminate the obstruction of the basketball game, the idea of glass backboards was conceived. With the assistance of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Company, designers of the backboards, and Frank Mosher, constructor of the frames, the idea was realized. These glass backboards were the first and only of their kind in the area.

Down through the years, time and the need for space have transformed our school into an arrangement completely different from that of our first planned, but the traditions of fellowship still remain.

Can you recognize these scenes from the past?

In the High School a new course of study was put into operation, adding largely to the "practical" side of education. This was the first time in the history of the high school that credit was given to freshman work done in domestic science. The junior and senior girls asked to take the course, even though it was extra work.

Miss Perry, the domestic science instructor, taught the girls the value of foods, preparation of foods, balancing a meal, and cooking the special diets for the sick. They learned to care for their kitchen equipment, which in itself was an accomplishment to any girl.

Though the enrollment was less than expected, all in all, the course proved satisfying to the students. Each year, the course attracted more eager pupils, and gradually developed into the present-day Home Economics course.

New Philadelphia School Band

The School Band was organized in January, 1915, by Frank R. Speck, Director of Music. At the start there were about forty boys in the organization none of whom could play a band instrument; but by the thirtieth of May of the same year they were able to play a few marches well enough to march at the head of the procession of school children in the Memorial Day Parade.

A few boys failed to make good in the band and a few left school but others have come in to take their places. At this time there are in the senior organization thirty members, while there is a junior band of recruits coming on which numbers about twenty boys.

The school band has become an established institution which is filling a big place in school and community activities.

Orchestra

The High School Orchestra, numbering twenty-three members, furnished music for one or two evenings during the Exhibit of the Art and Manual Training Department; the Senior-Junior Banquet; the Class Play, and the Graduating Exercises.

There twenty-three schools's best musical talent, and the well-balanced instrumentation for full orchestra afforded opportunities in which the capabilities of each and every member was brought into prominence.

For a number of years it has been the custom of each graduating class to leave behind something that will remain as a memorial of their sojourn in High School. In order to provide a suitable home for a number of trophies players won by athletes of former years, the class of '21 presented the school with a trophy case. The case was placed in the lower hall and for some years remained a fitting tribute in recognition of what the school had done for its members.

The growth of athletics has been signified by the addition of many new trophies since 1921. These new awards are the result of hard work and fair play by the athletics of our school. New Philadelphia High School's fine traditions and high standards are shown in these beautiful cups and players. In order to show these awards, a new trophy case was built. It is located in the new gym and attracts the attention of all who enter.

The year 1896 marked the beginning of the N.P.H.S. football team. Our first game was against Canal Dover and played at the baseball field in New Philadelphia. We won 18 to 0.

In 1957 the Quakers defeated Dover again, only this time by the outstanding margin of 72 to 0, showing the advancement of athletes and our continued supremacy over our archrival.

Through the years the cheerleaders and athletics have changed very much.

The most obvious change in the cheerleaders is in their dress. Neat pleated skirts have replaced the wool slacks.

The girls' basketball team which was very popular in the 20's, has ben completely abandoned. This was the last opportunity for girls of New Phila High to participate in interscholastic athletic contests.

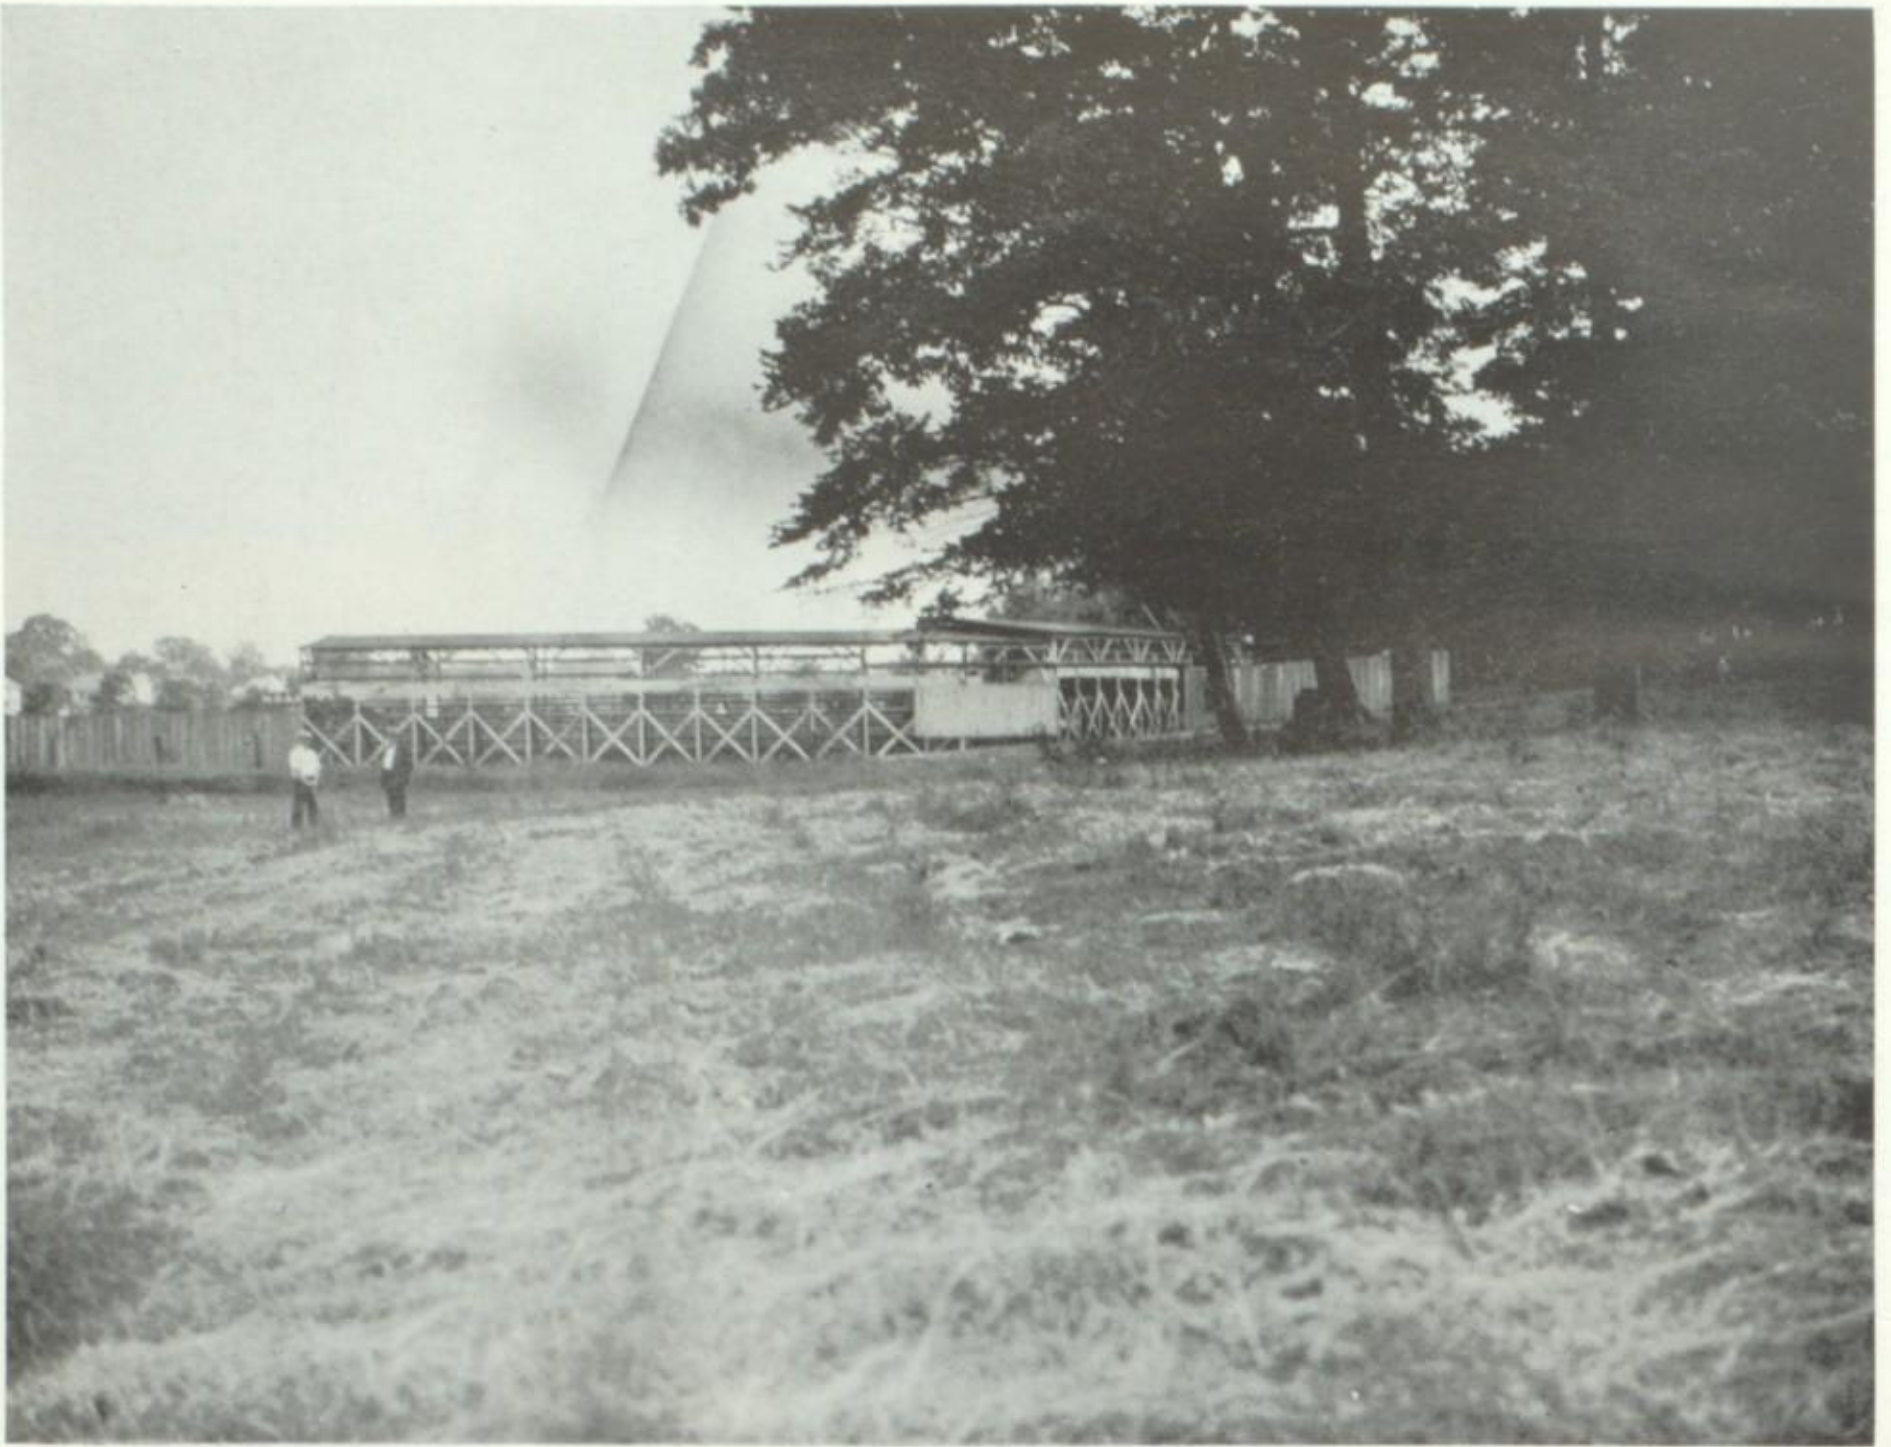

Basketball players of today now wear jerseys with numbers on for faster identification. The shorter, lighter uniforms make playing much easier.

Football, our most popular sport, has also met many changes through the years. The uniforms of the players have been revised greatly, added padding has made football safer; numbers on jerseys have made identification simpler.

The New Stadium

Mr. Franklin Geiger and Mr. William Fishel look over the prospective site for the new football stadium near the old baseball diamond in its present site.

At the time he was faculty manager for the football team, Mr. Fishel conceived the idea for a football field. He realized this necessity when he experienced a typical baseball game on the muddy diamond at Tuscora Park and dreaded the thought of conditioning this spot for the opening football season. Mr. Fishel was determined to better conditions and exerted every effort to this purpose. The citizens of New Philadelphia backed him in the idea and in 1913 his dream came true.

Mr. Fishel presented his idea to Senator Nickles, member of the Phila park board, Nickles expressed his approval and boosted the project. As a result of several meetings, two tracts of land were chosen. The one tract of land lying parallel to North Broadway was not chosen because it did not afford enough space. Several meetings followed in which the type of field desired was discussed. It was decided that one should be constructed that would last for many years.

Many attractive and popular fields were inspected and as a result, with the exception of concrete bleachers on both sides of the field, the local field is almost an exact replica of the Parkersburg lot. Albert Rosch, local engineer, was secured to draw up plans and make blue prints of the proposed field.

Mr. William Fishel watches as Franklin P. Geiger, former Superintendent, breaks the ground for our new football stadium.

It was then decided to organize an association comprised of representatives of the city's four service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce, and the Bronx Club. These groups offered much support. The tract of land which included approximately five acres was then turned over to the organization which was designated the New Philadelphia Schools Stadium Association. Fishel was named foreman of the construction. Bids for the construction of the field were then advertised for and Samuel Hensel, this city, was awarded the contract.

The work of construction was started on Monday, July 28th, 1927. The football field proper is 120 yards long and fifty yards wide. A quarter mile cinder track circles the grid-iron and is separated from the players field by a twenty foot lawnstrip.

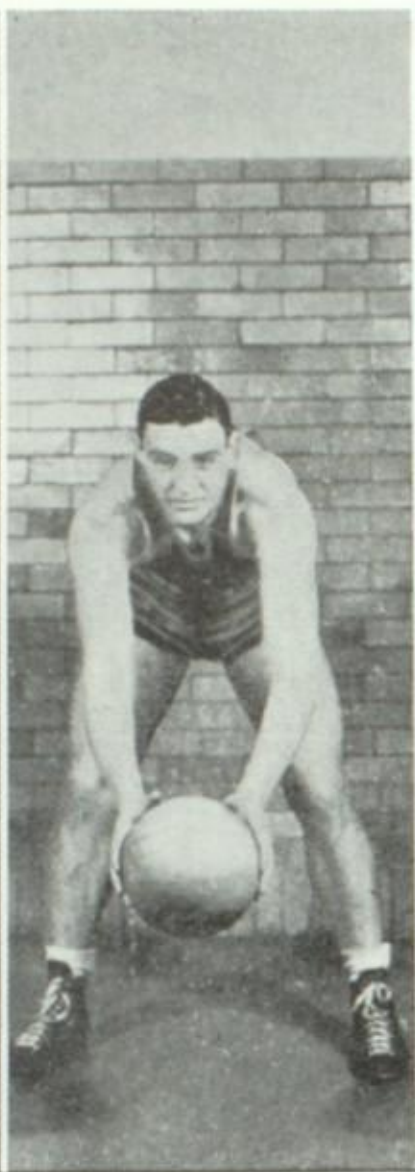

Each of the city's service clubs, the Chamber of Commerce and the Bronx Club donated $200 to the Stadium Association; $2000 was appropriated by the park board, $2000 was turned over to the association by the school board and the high school athletic association donated a like amount.

In later years field houses were constructed. Not only can the stadium be used for football, but it provides an ideal place to hold a field and track meet. It was the first time that the high school was able to boast of a cinder track on which its speed artists could break world records. The finished product was a greater achievement than was dreamed of by its sponsors.

1940 UNDEFEATED STATE CHAMPIONS

The 1940 basketball team brought a great honor to the corridors of NPHS. Fighting through a tough schedule, the Quaker Wildcats went undefeated in twenty-five games. Many teams they played had high ratings in the state. The success of the Wildcats was due to the fact of a concerted team effort.

The coach for these boys was Paul Hoerneman, who was only twenty-three years old. It took much know-how to put together a great team such as this and he and the team deserve much credit.

There were two All-Ohio and All-Tournament choices on this team. They were Jack Castignola and Glenn Barker. The others who greatly contributed to the success of this team were: Bob Ferguson, Don Brown, Lloyd Reese, Leo Benjamin (the present coach), Kenny Gribble, Bob Tope, Don Evans, and Bill Tucker.

The Quaker Wildcats of 1940 were only the third team to become undefeated State Champions.

An interesting highlight of 1920 was provided by the football team coached by Dale Empfield. They had the honor of establishing a new state record for points scored in a single game. They defeated the highly touted Caldwell team by the score of 154-0.

The football team of 1944 posted the best record since 1924. The team, coached by Paul Hoerneman and Bill Kidd, was rated one of the five finest teams in the state and shared the mythical grid title of Ohio. The varsity had only two touchdowns scored against them; the team as a whole gave up only 25 points.

Just last year the New Phila. track team under Coach Ralph Gartrell was undefeated in dual meets.

The War Years

Throughout the war years the patriotic spirit of New Philadelphia High School manifested itself in many successful war activities.

One of its major undertakings was the all-city scrap drive in October. In this drive every house in the city was canvassed for metal. The students were divided into small groups, and each group was assigned a certain district. With the hearty co-operation of everyone, four hundred pounds of keys and twenty-five tons of scrap iron were collected and disposed of.

Four new courses were temporarily added to the curriculum; (1). pre-flight aeronautics, which provided special courses and activities for the preliminary training of prospective aviation cadets and ground crew maintenance men; (2). emergency mathematics, a refresher course for students who had not studied this subject; (3). a physical-fitness program which emphasized not only health, posture, and calisthenics, but also military drill and first aid; and (4). a girls' industrial arts course which gave the girls some training for the industrial jobs that service men formerly held.

The girls with brothers in a service organized a club called G.O.B.S., whose purpose it was to sell defense bonds and stamps. These girls were successful in their enterprise, as they sold approximately twenty thousand dollars worth of bonds.

Two Canteen drives were undertaken, one being conducted by the Central News. The total proceeds were thirty dollars' worth of candy bars, sixty-one dollars in cash, and thirty-three hundred magazines.

The Victory Corps, which had been organized early in the fall was composed of five divisions: (1) Land Service, (2) Sea Service, (3) Air Service, (4) Production Service, and (5) Community Service. The plan was to do exploratory work in each field. The division took each being to help boys and girls find themselves turns sponsoring a program each week, the id in war work.

The sale of War Bonds and Stamps every Friday was started early in the fall. During an "All Out for Victory" week, through a 100% cooperation of students and teachers, over ten thousand dollars' worth of bonds and stamps were purchased. The second 100% drive on April 16, resulted in the purchase of $68,516.25 worth of bonds and stamps through the school. A grand total of $112,321. in stamps and bonds were sold.

Growth is a constant, continuous process that never stops until death takes its toll. New Philadelphia High School is a growing, living organization in a growing city and country. The student enrollment has grown and continues to call for enlargement of present facilities.

A new athletic building with facilities for basketball, volleyball, weight lifting, wrestling and other indoor activities has been recently completed. It has a seating capacity of more than two thousand persons. The addition of a modern music department, new student lockers and many other improvements have added to the beauty and usefulness of our school.

Just as the school expands and enlarges, the students, past and present, have and will grow in mind and body as individuals and as citizens of the world. The school, as the architect of the future, must adapt to meet the increasing demands of a swiftly changing society.

SUE ELLEN SPRING
Honestly,
Sam.

SANDRA DAY STEMPLER
Delightful to know.

LINDA SUE STEVENSON
To friends,
a friend.

MARIE STOKEY
Her smile would melt a heart of stone.

JAMES J. STRAZISAR
A ready wit.

TERRY SWEGHIEMER
If silence were golden,
I'd be a millionaire.

WILLIAM E. SWINEHART
I like school — except for studying.

PAULINE L. SWISHER Happiness seems made to be shared.

CHARLES TETER
That's typical.

STANLEY J. THOMAS
Actions speak louder than words.

HAROLD E. TYGARD
Life is not life without sports and girls.

CLIFFORD E. VAN DYKE
Ever ready to do his part.

RENE ESTELLE VANCE Always gracious in her manner.

DONALD VARKER
The skill to do
comes of doing.

VIRGINIA I. VERMILLION
TNT personality.

BONNIE VOSHALL
All her thoughts are thoughts of him.

CYNTHIA WADE
Gentle, retiring, shy.

JANET SUE WALTERS
You'd know that laugh anywhere.

DALE WARNER
Never do today what you can do tomorrow.

THOMAS D. WARNER
Must men study?

SUSAN F. WELLING
Her personality is hard to beat.

JIM WEMPLE
If the girls would only let me alone.

ROBERT E. WEST Seen, but not heard.

LINDA SUE WEST
So easy to get along with.

MARY ANN WEST
And I chatter, chatter, chatter as I go.

KATHERINE JOANNE
WILSON
There is wisdom in a merry heart.

PATRICIA LOUISE
WITHERS Beauty is as beauty does.

The council is an organization of students, elected by students, to serve as their representatives in matters of concern to the entire school. It represents everyone and speaks for everyone. It is the one organization offering membership and participation to all students, not just a select few. It gives boys and girls an opportunity to learn democracy by practicing it, to do the things, now, while in school, which a good citizen will do later. It provides training in citizenship rather than training for citizenship.

Among the senior student council activities this year were the Homecoming dance, a Christmas dance and a collection for the needy during the Christmas season.

Junior division activities ranged from revising teenage code and assisting in Red Cross, March of Dimes, and Community Fund drives, to operating a hall-guard monitor system.

Y-Teens form a part of the Young Women's Christian Association. Their goals are: "to grow as a person, to grow in friendship with people of all races, religions and nationalities, to grow in the knowledge and love of God."

Y-Teens hold monthly meetings. These have included a get-acquainted picnic, induction service for officers, a panel discussion on United Nations, a program given by our foreign exchange student, Ingrid Sidow, a Christmas dinner, a meeting addressed by Miss Mary Schofer, program director of the Ohio District YWCA.

Activities participated in by Y-Teens this year have included co-sponsorship with Hi-Y of a religious assembly program, making favors for the children's ward of Union Hospital, and helping in the heart fund drive.

Y-Teen membership is open to all tenth, eleventh, and twelfth year girls who are interested in the goals.

Office Personnel

Emma Petersheim, Shirley Miller, Deidre Miller, Dorothy Lint, Carolyn Campo, Ethelyn Eichel, Pam Crawley, Glenda Barker

The office workers are an industrious group of girls who devote their study halls daily to performing the extra jobs in the office. Some of their duties are: running errands, filing, typing, stapling, alphabetizing, arranging mail, and, in general, helping Sue Keener, office head, in whatever is needed to be done. It is with the help of these girls that the functions of the office run smoothly.

ROW 2 Pauline Swisher, Donna Winkler, Carol Miller, Jackie Polen, Sue Shook, Vondalene Bear, Linda Urfer, Brenda Smallwood, Deidre Miller, Roberta Boone, Mrs. Gibbs

The library staff is a group of girls who donate one or several study halls a week to assist the librarian, Mrs. Gibbs, in the organization of the library. Some of their duties are to return and check library passes, check out books, collect money on overdue books, shelve books, and aid students in book location. This experience familiarizes the girls with the responsibilities of library work.

This year our fiftieth year book staff has attempted to give you something entirely different in year-book history. This volume of "The Golden Years" has come about because of the training and teamwork of the staff members as well as the able guidance of our advisors, Mr. La Fontaine. We have gathered numerous pictures and material which we feel will be of interest to Delphia readers.

Each year at the beginning of the second semester, the sophomore apprentices are chosen according to their ability, attitude and willingness to accept responsibility. This year a new procedure is being used in that the apprentices are working and observing all the various procedures of the current year. Because of this they will have a wider knowledge of yearbook operation.

After his apprenticeship each sophomore is chosen to assist in the department in which he is best suited. He learns more specific facts about the particular department from the senior in charge.

During the senior year the hard work of making schedules, getting materials assembled and meeting deadlines begins.

The effort and time which was contributed to the production of this book was spent in hopes that you, the readers, will cherish the many memories this book holds for you in "The Golden Years."

The Central News

This tri-weekly paper contains the latest report of what is happening around the halls of N.P.H.S., the activities, assemblies, sports, special events and the latest gossip. This year a new column, "Susie Q", a question and answer section to teen-age problems, was added. In addition to the paper the Central News staff prepared the Quaker Highlights column in the Daily Times.

This year's activities included a Christmas party and joint picnic with the Delphian staff in the spring.

The staff has brought many awards to our school and is a member of the Columbus Scholastic Press Association.

The Future Teachers of America is an organization which enables its members to receive a better understanding of what is required of teachers by giving them first hand experience. Not only are these students given the experience of substituting for high school teachers, but they, many times, are sent to the grade schools for similar service.

This year the F.T.A. engaged in many educational and rewarding activities. These included a speech by Mr. Force in which he answered questions submitted by members, about college. Mrs. J. O. Carlson also spoke on one occasion about her work with mentally retarded children. Other activities for the year included two movies and during the Christmas season, F.T.A. members purchased, wrapped, and delivered gifts to the local nursing home.

The French Club was organized in 1960. It is composed of students from the first and second year French classes. Through this club the members obtain a better understanding of the culture and the people of France. They had speakers and slides of France in order to motivate interest in the language. It furnished the members with pen pals in France to better their understanding of the French language.

The French Club members made projects for the Science Fair and participated in various other school activities.

The Spanish Club is an organization for all students who are taking Spanish I, II and III.

With its officers, as leaders, it endeavors to recreate, by means of speakers, films and discussions, the history of the Spanish speaking countries and the lives and customs of its their people.

Besides listening to interesting speakers, who have traveled in Spanish-speaking countries, the club prepared baskets for the under-privileged att Thanksgiving time, conducted a bake sale and a car wash. They wrote to pen-pals in the Spanish-speaking countries, sang Christmas carols and enjoyed a Christmas Fiesta at which the accustomed pinaa was broken. Later in the year, for an exhibitt, the club members prepared notebooks, posters and flags expressing the Spanish customs and ways of life.

This club is composed of boys interested in machinery and shop work. They are taught how to handle machines correctly and the boys are helped to assume some civic duties.

It is the desire of this club to unite in a common bond the students enrolled in trade, and industrial classes throughout the state; to provide opportunities for the development of leadership in social and educational pursuits; to promote high standards of workmanship.

This year the V.I.C. built the bonfire for the Beat Dover Parade, sold pop at the home basketball games, held a Vocational reunion banquet and lost the Faculty-V.I.C. basketball game again this year.

Gerald Frank and Bob Bigler were elected to visit the state capital with the Ohio V.I.C. Groups.

In a state-wide competition at the Spring Conference, Jim Ringler competed in the Extemporaneous Speaking Contest; Terry Gopp competed in the Prepared Speech Contest and Eddie West in the Job Application Contest. The local V.I.C. won the gold award in the merit contest.

The club benefits the community for it provides experienced men for the future.

ROW 2 Karen Sanders, Sharon Taylor, Mary Harding, Helinda Gibbs, Sue Taylor

ROW 3 Marsha Ricker, Patty Wardell, Faye Polka, Ethelyn Ann Eichel, Jeanne Balentine

These girls, known as the Auditorium Ushers, are members of the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

Each year Sophomore girls are chosen by the Junior girls with the approval of the Senior girls.

The girls give their time and effort to usher at such programs as the Senior Class Play, Baccalaureate, Commencement services and other programs for the public. They take tickets, issue programs and help patrons find the right seats.

Junior Stage Crew

The Junior Stage Crew is composed of these boys from the seventh, eighth and ninth grades. They work hard during assemblies being responsible for the curtain, the lighting of the auditorium, and for the props and sets needed for special performances. They are a young, ambitious, and reliable crew.

This year the Hi-Y Club has been very active. At the beginning of the year, they welcomed new members with a banquet at Bonvechio's, with last year's advisor, Mr. Russell Bender, as guest speaker. The club's new advisor, Mr. Robert Funk, along with Jack Evans and Dan Morris, went to Columbus for the State Hi-Y Legislative Conference in April. The organization worked at the concession stands during basketball games to aid in finances. Another successful "Roaring 20's Ball" was also planned. These activities, plus many parties at the YMCA with Dover Hi-Y members, made this year's Hi-Y a good time for all. At the end of the year they held a farewell banquet.

Our Band at Work

The band enroute to the practice field after school, a daily band season activity.

Band members "warming up" for their first appearance of the year, State Fair, at Columbus, Ohio.

The marching band contributes many hours of enjoyment to each band season and demands of its members as much hard work at that which is necessary for football players. There is no room for loafers when a band show must be prepared within a week.

This year's shows were highlighted by numerous routines of percision drills which the band performed with unusual ability. The band also marched in many parades and added enthusiasm to pep rallies.

Drum Majorettes

Sunday Murphy, Sue Schoelles, Head Majorette; Virginia Vermillion, Quaker Girl; Nancy Olmstead, Shirley Waler, Gloria Kinsey, Sally Hency

The working hours for this high stepping group of girls began at the beginning of last summer and continued until the last cheer of the Dover-Philly football game had ceased. Being a majorette requires a lot of time, hard work, and ability.

Typical activities performed by the majorettes were marching to the stadium with the band, Veterans and Memorial Day parades, Dover-Philly Snake Dance, and daily practice marching. The girls danced, strutted, and twirled at many halftime shows and pep rallies which sometimes demanded a change in costume. They highlighted Dover-Philly halftime by twirling fire batons to the snappy tune of Yanke Doodle Dandy. This year the girls performed with the band for the Ohio State Fair at Columbus, Ohio.

Drum Majors

Dale Hawk — Mike Davis

This year because of conflicting activities, our head drum major, Dale Hawk, turned his position over to his assistant, Mike Davis. Mike did a fine job during band season and on one occasion took full responsibility for instruction. His ability in leadership was greatly admired by all band members.

The Junior and Seniors Choirs together under the direction of Mr. Bliss is a group of which the high school is quite proud. It's members are from the tenth, eleventh and twelfth grades.

New Philadelphia was honored this year to have the choir workshop in our school. Choirs from Dover, Wooster Massillon and Canton McKinley were our guests.

The choir, with a full schedule this year sang for Thanksgiving and Christmas assemblies. The group sang for the Elk's Memorial services, Spiritual Emphasis Week, parent's night, Patrons Concert and Baccalaureate. Plans for an exchange concert with Wooster High School are in the making.

With the direction of Mr. Bliss and the help from Senior student director, Sue McIntire, the choir worked hard and deserves credit for a year well done.

Letitia Carberry, Tish is a middle aged spinster, blunt, outspoken and entirely lovable. She informs her two companions, Aggie and Lizzie, that she intends to get closer to nature. They start out in the secondhand car Tish has bought. Lizzie has wired Tish's nephew near the Mexican border. Shortly after his arrival, Lizzie and Aggie come limping in to the hotel. Tish becomes the center of international complications when she takes Aggie up in Charlie's plane to search for the looter of the hotel safe. The newspaper headlines on the following day proclaim that a lone female spy has been sighted flying over Mexico. Tish gets everybody into and out of one difficulty after another.

SEASON'S WRITE-UP

Three new figures were added to the coaching staff this season. Al Christopher was installed as head mentor. Dick Fryman is the new line coach. A much needed pepper man was also added to the staff. He is Al Dunn reserve and varsity coach. This year was almost a complete rebuilding program. Because of the hard work of these new coaches and the desire of the team, the Quakers ended with a three and seven record. A few breaks their way and the Phils could have won two or three other games.

In one or two years New Phila should be strong once more in the gridiron sport.

P—is for pitcher; it is a baseball which he throws.
Q—is for quiver in which the archer holds his bows.
R—is for racing, a sport which employs the auto.
S—is for stadium where the big game is played; watch the crowd go!
T—is for tennis, played with a racquet; looks like a snowshoe to me.
U—is for umpires, it's the game which they oversee.
V—is for Va., some fellow told me it means versus, a Latin work.
W—is for waltz, a dance they say a sport about which I never heard.
X—is for exhibition, I went to one once; they played games of some sort.
Y—is for yachting; I heard it was a swell summer sport.
Z—is for zebra, aw—that's no sport; but try to catch one, some sport.

Who cares about zebras any way? I don't. I'm a sportsman, and do I know my sports huh ----!

Yours,

Uncle Tim

Hi ya Quakers! We are back again at the end of 50 years of the Delphian to bring you a rundown on the 1961-62 school highlights.

It all started on September 5, 1961, when work and fun began again for new and old friends in the separate Junior and Senior Divisions. The junior division welcomed Mr. Fishel as its new principal while the senior division welcomed its new principal, Mr. Hugh Howey. The students were welcomed by the friendly faces of the following new teachers: Mrs. Wanda Acheson, Mr. Frank Bartholow, Mr. Albert Christopher, Mr. Albert Dunn, Mr. Eldon Ehrman, Mr. Robert Funk, Mr. Laverne Jenkins, Mrs. Sherril Peters, Mr. Alfred Pocock, Mr. Ingraham Smith, Mr. John LaFontaine, Mr. Richard Wood, Mr. James Austin, Mr. Larry Chaney, Mr. Daniels, Mr. Richard Fryman, Mrs. Carole Smith and Mr. Francis Yarnell. To add to these new changes, the halls of NPHS were graced with new lockers and new floors.

On September 15, the first football game this year was played with Jackson Memorial. During the half-time of this game Vicki Graff, last year's Quaker Girl, capped Nancy Olmstead, Quaker Girl for this new year.

On October 10, Doris Baumer was crowned Homecoming Queen. The Homecoming Dance was held in our gymnasium in honor of the Queen and her court. Senior attendants: Janet Walters and Gaye Hupp, junior attendants: Becky Niuman and Bonnie Maple, and sophomore attendants: Elaine Swinderman and Jeanne Ballentine.

This year, the N.P.H.S. student body chose senior half-back, Harold Evans, All Quaker for our 1961 football season. Congrats Harold!

On November 22, the gals with their guys in identical sweaters attended the annual Sweater Hop sponsored by the Tri-Hi-Y. The theme this year was "Pumpkin Paradise" featuring Bill Ridenour as disc-jockey.

The Christmas Dance was held on December 19, for Senior Division featuring the school dance band under the direction of George Polce. On the following afternoon the Christmas Assembly was held. The A Cappella Choir and the Senoir Orchestra provided special Christmas music for the occasion after which school was dismissed for Christmas vacation.

On January 2, 1962, the students returned to classes looking reluctantly forward to semester exams on the 25th and 26th of January.

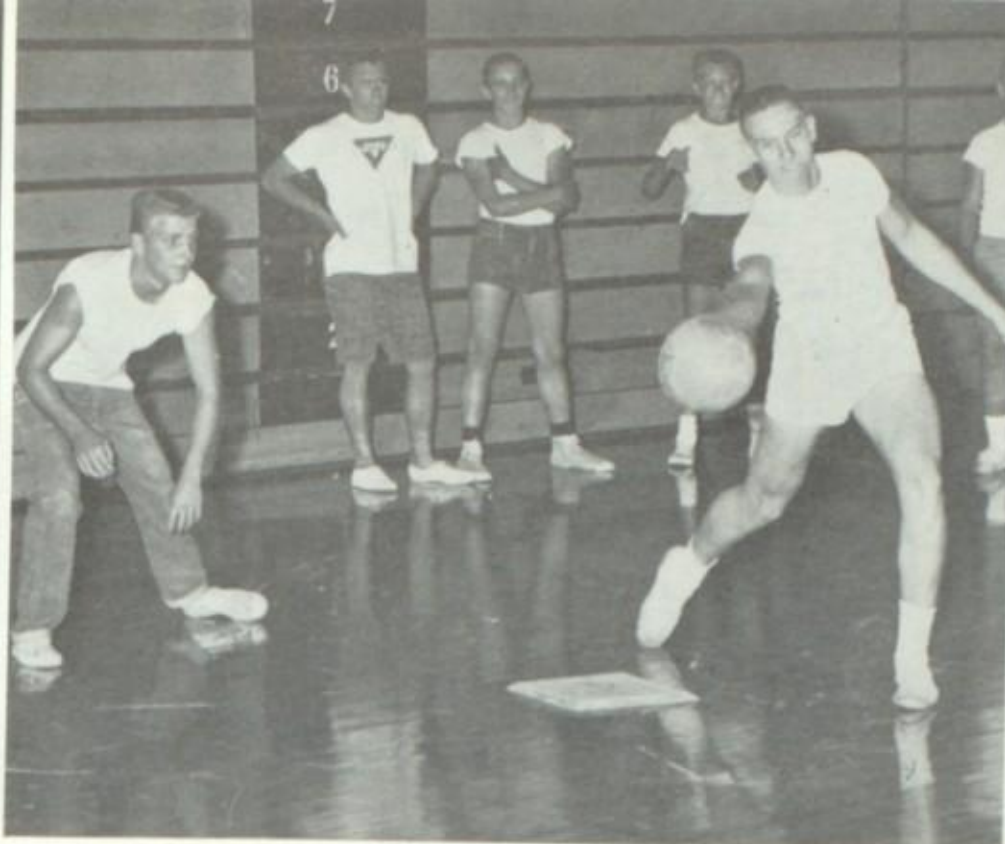

On February 8, NPHS was honored to be the hosts for the tenth annual choir workshop. Our guests were Dover, Wooster, Canton McKinley, and Massillon with Dr. John Raymond, head of the Music Department of Lafayette College in Pennsylvania, as director of the massed choir.

On February 21 the junior class sponsored the annual Junior Jamboree, featuring talent from its class.

On March 12, the Hi-Y held its twisting Roaring Twenties Ball featuring the "Staccatoes" for special entertainment. The couples all came dressed in the outstanding fashions of the 1920's.

On February 26, the Science Fair was held in our gymnasium. Ten Senior Division students and the Junior Division students received superior rating.

"Tish" was the title of the Senior Class Play presented by the seniors on April 6. Mr. Pocock directed the play with Tom Reichman as student director. The play was a comedy and was a great success.

"Blue Hawaii" was glamorous theme of the Spring Formal. The dance was held on April 14, by its sponsors the Tri-Hi-Y. It was a wonderful evening and a great way to start Spring Vacation.

When the Seniors returned to class on April 23, along with the under classmen, they began to look forward to their last prom and the night they would receive their diplomas. The Junior-Senior Prom, on May 27, came quickly. Soon came Baccalureate Services on June 3, the Senior Banquet on the 10th and at last graduation for the Seniors in the class of 1962.

While all this was happening in the Senior Division, the Junior Division held a Soc Hop for the ninth graders, a Christmas Dance, Valentine Dance, and a Spring Dance. To end the year the ninth grades held a promotion exercise on June 1, to make their last year in Junior Division complete, Welcome to Senior Division this fall!

Now to make this year complete we would just like to express how proud we are of last year's Delphian. It was through the hard work and co-operation of last year's seniors, juniors, tax-stamp counting sophomores and our advisor, Mr. Rieker the Delphian of 1961 received first award in the National Scholastic Press Association.

This Golden Edition of the Delphian is but a link connecting the chain of preceding volumes with those of the future. Students will graduate and others will fill their places in the publishing of this book. It is our sincere wish that these Golden Years will be cherished by you, the readers of the past, present and future.

"The moving finger writes: and having writ,
Moves on: nor all your piety nor wit
Shall lure it back to cancel half a line,
Nor all your tears wash out a word of it."
